

Nov 06 British tv will follow Team Explore Race

British Channel 4 will follow the entire race and one of the team they will follow is Team Explore

Now the entire team is in place in Portugal since assistant Andreas Mathisen arrived last night. From the morning the team has been working with their equipment and also got really organised with their assistants.

The British Channel 4 is on place in Portugal with five camerateams to follow the race. Team Explore will be one of the team that they will follow.

At 14.00 the registration opened and the team was there and made a really fast and short registration.

At this moment the team is packing the last things with racefood, and half the
